17. (Previously Presented) The patio pole umbrella of claim 12 wherein said pole includes an internal separator to axially separate the interior of said pole into at least two sections.

18. (Previously Presented) The patio pole umbrella of claim 17 wherein electrical current carrying elements are placed in one of said sections to isolate said electrical current carrying elements from the remainder of the interior of the pole.

19. (Currently Amended) A movable outdoor furniture article including: a pole for supporting a canopy of an umbrella; and a power hub;
wherein said power hub is incorporated into said pole; and wherein said power hub includes an electrical outlet for providing AC electricity to an electrical device; and an input power receptacle receiving electrical power; wherein an electrical connector is introduced into said input power receptacle to provide electrical power to said electrical outlet.

20. (Canceled).
